

Hope Coulter

Hope Coulter is the author of two published novels, The Errand of the Eye (August House, 1988) and Dry Bones (August House, 1990); one children's book, Uncle Chuck's Truck (Bradbury Press, 1993); and several short stories and poems published in literary magazines, including Spoon River Poetry Review, New Delta Review, Slant, and Rattle. Her poem "Last Joke" in Spoon River Poetry Review was nominated for a Pushcart Prize in 2008.

Other honors include Arkansas's Porter Fund for Literary Excellence, the Short Story Award of Louisiana Life magazine, and a residency at the Dairy Hollow Writers' Colony.

A native of New Orleans, she grew up in Alexandria, Louisiana, and received her A.B. from Harvard University and her M.F.A. in creative writing from Queens University. She lives in Little Rock and teaches creative writing at Hendrix College.